Re: Board of Education Building Report

Building Highlights:

Throughout the Christmas Break, Chris Baumgartner, Mark Bestwick and Keith Cole worked tirelessly to clean the building and complete maintenance items. Their efforts are much appreciated. Custodial staff and teachers continue to manage sanitizing and disinfecting in order to keep the building clean and our SHS community as safe as possible.

Innovative Learning Opportunities:

Xello/Individual Plans of Study- During the month of January students are working in their Advisories on: Student led conferences, course planners, updating experiences and completing storyboard reflection. In addition 12th grades are working on their Senior Videos.

Social and Emotional Learning/Competencies- As we strive to offer more and greater opportunities for learning and growth, students continue utilizing the College and Career competencies. Our 9th graders are discussing and learning about Self- Regulation. 10th graders are considering and developing skills in regard to Assertiveness. The 11th-grade class is developing an understanding of Conflict Management while 12th graders make strides in learning about and practicing Self-Efficacy. You can access information as to these and the other competencies at <http://www.cccframework.org/>.

Updates:

Student Led Conferences take place February 1st and 3rd. This is a fruitful opportunity for SHS students, families and teachers to sit together to discuss individual progress, celebrate accomplishments and consider avenues for future successes. The student led conference experience fosters and strengthens the three-way partnership (Students, Families and School) that offers students the greatest potential for academic, social, and emotional growth.
